Firefighters quickly responded and the plane was left burning in the grass, in the airport's grassy triangle. On Thursday, July 18, Fire Commissioner Daniel Nigro called the fire "fatal" for a child in a house just next door to the airport. It is now up to the Nassau County Office of the Chief Medical Examiner to determine the cause of death for 2-year-old Ariana Cottingham and her family. According to the Nassau County Department of Health, the tragedy claimed the life of the baby's father, Andrew Cottingham. The mother, Kathryn Cottingham, was injured and hospitalized for burns and smoke inhalation. Andrew Cottingham was a passenger on the plane, which landed safely after the fire broke out, and he was quickly rescued by airport firefighters. However, an investigation revealed that the fire originated underneath the plane. The FAA issued a citation to airport manager Ronald Kuznia. Kuznia could face a maximum fine of $200,000 for violating regulations regarding the pilot's responsibility to safely land an aircraft. "The FAA's Office of Air Safety Inspection, which conducted a thorough investigation of the incident, determined that the takeoff from the Airport was performed by a pilot who was not properly qualified to perform the task," the FAA said in a statement. "The FAA also determined that the airport's control tower, which provided information to the pilot, failed to comply with an FAA order to ensure that the pilot's actions were adequate to respond to the emergency," the statement added. The FAA noted that the "Airport management failed to review the pilot's qualifications,

Her mother is skeptical about the incident and thinks she may be exaggerating. She eventually receives help from her schoolmate, Robyn, who says that they should tell Mina's dad. They are also encouraged by Mina's little sister, Anika. Mina's mom is still unsure about telling Mora's dad about her accident, but eventually Mora convinces her that her dad will only believe her if she knows how to swim. Episode 2. Anika becomes friends with a girl named Natasia, who starts playing with the three kids. Mora and Mina start falling in love with each other and Anika gets jealous. Natasia offers Mora and Mina tickets to a movie. At the movie theatre, Mora and Mina meet Robyn and tell her about their relationship. After the movie, Mora has a talk with Anika, who tells her she can only be friends with Mina. Mina's dad later discovers that she was right about Mora, after an argument with her mom. Episode 3. Mora and Mina's romance continues to grow and Mora's mom accepts the relationship. During the summer, Mora and Mina spend time with Robyn, and they begin to spend time together without the other two. Mina's family returns to their old home in Tasmania. Mina is sad about the family's new home and wants to stay at the beach with Mora. Mina's family visits the beach, and Mina asks Mora to return to Tasmania with her. Mora tells Mina that she made a mistake coming to Australia with her, and that she should stay and see her father again. Mina agrees, and the two friends break up. Episode 4. Mina and Robyn remain friends, and Robyn starts hanging out with Anika and Mora again. Anika and Mora begin to fight with each other, and Mora decides to spend time with Robyn instead of Anika. 2d92ce491b
