Free Download Free Fonts.Russia's Roscosmos said Tuesday that a craft carrying four crew members of the International Space Station was launched successfully from Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan. The Soyuz MS-08 spacecraft was launched at 12:02 a.m. EST (16:02 GMT) after a two-hour launch window opened. The four Russian cosmonauts landed in Kazakhstan at 7:54 a.m. (12:54 GMT) NASA Television and Roscosmos said three other crew members remained on the station, along with one crew member of the Soyuz spacecraft and one of the space station. Roscosmos said the Soyuz spacecraft, called the MS-08, lifted off from the Baikonur Cosmodrome in Kazakhstan Tuesday. The launch was smooth, and the spacecraft entered orbit about three hours later. A manned Russian Soyuz spacecraft carrying astronauts Fyodor Yurchikhin, Mikhail Korniyenko and Gennady Padalka, and Italian astronaut Luca Parmitano, is seen during the launch of the International Space Station in Baikonur, Kazakhstan, January 7, 2016. (Alexandria Altmani/Handout via Reuters) "This is the last of four launches to the International Space Station this year, and we are ready to welcome our new crew members!" said NASA astronaut Drew Feustel, aboard the space station. "So it's the last time we'll hear from them for a while until they come home, hopefully, at the end of the year. That's a lot of time in the space station, so we'll miss them," he d4474df7b8
