However, if you use a file compression program, such as WinZip, you can usually add a series of file headers that override the built-in Windows headers. This does not work for ZIP or RAR archives. Each header begins with a local file header (LFH). The LFH identifies the file as a ZIP file, the ZIP format version, and the file size. The LFH also contains a general purpose data (GPD) field, which is used to identify the optional. WinZip Free 15.0. Winzip Serial Number Free Online.
