Spin diffusion of a hydrogen-1 nucleus in a semipolar crystal was investigated using stimulated-echo solid-state NMR spectroscopy. Spin diffusion was measured as a function of time (from 1 min to more than 6 days) and of the internal field (from 0.02 to 23 T). The results, combined with the relaxation times, indicate that spin diffusion is limited by field-induced flip-flopping of nuclear magnetization, and is up to 1 order of magnitude smaller than that obtained in solution at 25 degrees C. The results suggest that, in semipolar crystals, the fundamental magnetic-field-dependence of the NMR signal in the solids can be accounted for by field-induced flip-flopping of nuclear magnetization.Sometimes there are things that remind you of where you came from and what it's like to be a hardcore gamer. Such is the case with this Rampage; a Sega Super Scaler that was built to be used in arcades as a chiptune player in the early 90's. Designed by a company called Senao, and published in Japan as the official Sega Super Scaler, this amazing arcade styled chiptune player was used to support the Sega Saturn and Dreamcast. Although this unit, unlike the Saturn, which it was designed for has never been released, but thanks to a video game collector from Japan and the internet, you can now own one of these Super Scalers for yourself! The original Senao Rampage was around $1200 USD, so this particular model is one hell of a deal – and is very well made. The unit is perfect for the chiptuner who wants the retro experience with some modern day upgrades. This retro arcade might be a bit small, and you might not be able to mount it in your living room. However, it is a wonderful sight for a chiptuner and will always remind you of what it used to be like when chiptune music was everything.Method for quantifying pore sizes and skin properties in the European badger (Meles meles) using adhesive tape.
